Mather eMOLST Team Lauded

eMOLST Team: Lorraine Farrell FNP, RPAC, AVP for Medical Affairs; Cathy Roster, LMSW, Director of Case Management; Rich Poveromo, LMSW, CCM, Director of Social Work; Denise Engrassia, PA, Hospitalist; Nirupa Ramjisingh, RPA-C, Operations Director, Hospital Medicine; and Cynthia Phelan, PMP, IS Project Manager. Not pictured: Alice Kolasa, MD, Director, Palliative Medicine Program; Phyllis Macchio, ANP, GNP; Kathy Brennan, LMSW; Patricia Stillwaggon, BSN, RN, CCRN; Jeanette Voelger, RN, CCRN.

Mather Hospital will receive an IPRO Quality Award in June for its eMOLST System (Medical Orders for Life-Sustaining Treatment), an electronic medical record order form that informs others of a patient's wishes for life-sustaining treatment. IPRO is a national independent healthcare assessment and improvement services organization.

Mather was nominated for being the first Long Island hospital to go live with eMOLST, the electronic version of the MOLST document, for the team's work on integrating eMOLST into Sunrise At Mather (SAM), the hospital's electronic medical record; and for helping to develop an education program, "Improving Quality and Honoring Preferences for Persons with DD/ID Near the End of Life: The Role of the MOLST Program," which Mather hosted last October.

The eMOLST system is a New York State-wide secure webbased application that allows enrolled users to complete the eMOLST form and associated paperwork. By moving the MOLST form to a readily accessible electronic format and creating the New York eMOLST Registry, healthcare providers, (continued on page 5)

New Sleep Disorder Center Opens

Mather opened its new Sleep Disorder Center on the first floor of the Frey Family Foundation Medical Arts Building. The new center features a beautiful reception area; eight diagnostic testing bedrooms featuring queen-size beds, private bathroom/shower, Wi-Fi, television and individual temperature control; dedicated testing rooms for pediatric patients with sleeping accommodations for parents; and a state-of-the-art central monitoring room for therapists to conduct studies. # President's Column

Regardless of your position, each one of us at Mather Hospital has one common goal -- "to serve others." In doing so, we all want to ensure that our service meets the highest standards of quality and safety. We don't want to make a mistake, because the consequences could mean a delayed meal or treatment or something far worse. Yet providing healthcare is very complicated. There are many opportunities to make an error. That is why we need to ensure that we have processes in which we do the right thing every time in a complex environment. We term this "high reliability."

Ensuring that Mather is a high reliability organization is everyone's responsibility from the Board of Directors to the physicians, staff and volunteers. If you see an unsafe or improper condition or practice, tell your supervisor, department director, vice president or me. You can let me know by e mailing me at kdroberts@matherhospital.org.

People

Kudos to our Chief Nursing Officer Marie Mulligan, PhD, on the completion of her doctoral degree. Dr. Mulligan was also inducted as president of the Greater New York, Nassau, Suffolk Organization of Nurse Executives and Leaders in May.

Emily Emma, MSN, RN-BC, ONC, 3 South Nursing Manager, will receive her Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree in Nursing Leadership and Management from George Washington University in May.

Congratulations to the all of our graduating Residents. Fifteen Internal Medicine Residents, four Preliminary Residents and 13 Transitional Year Residents – will be heading on to new assignments, and we wish them well. One of the driving forces for us to start a graduate medical education program was to ensure that our community had enough primary care physicians. I am happy to report that three IM Residents have elected to stay at Mather. Anna Dewan, MD and Aaron Charniak, MD will join the Hospital Medicine Department. Zhongju Lu, MD will practice with Mather Primary Care at Harbor View Medical Associates.

Two of our Internal Medicine Residents were recognized at the 12th Annual Medical Society of the State of New York Resident/Fellow and Medical Student Poster Symposium. Neha R. Naik, MD, PGY3, took second place for "An Interdisciplinary Approach to Improving Care and Reducing Length of Stay in Patients with Cellulitis," Hamead Reza Moshrefi, DO, PGY2, received an honorable mention for "CNS Toxoplasmosis Encephalitis in CLL - A Challenge to Diagnose and Treat."

Dr. Naik's poster also was selected for the state-wide American College of Physicians meeting in Rochester, and she and co-chief Resident Alejandro Adolfo Robles-Torres, MD, were selected by the Association for Hospital Medical Education poster competition for "A Pilot Study of the Perceived Effectiveness of PGY-3 Co-Chief Residents in a New IM GME Residency Program at a Community Hospital." All the resident poster projects were under the direction of Alan Kaell, MD, director of scholarly activities for our GME program.

Maryanna Mason, MD, was named Medical Director of Imaging Services. Craig Player was named Administrative Director of Imaging Services. Please welcome both of them.

Carolyn Germain BSN, RN, OCN, has been named Director of Nursing, TCU. She replaces Kim Giordano, RN, who is now the MDS (Minimum Data Set) Coordinator.

Lillian Jones, RN, was named Acting Nurse Manager of 2 South. Mary Ferrara, RN, was appointed IV Coordinator for Mather.

NURSING matters

Nurse of Excellence – Melissa Pearson, RN, from the ED was named Mather's 2017 Nurse of Excellence.

DAISY Award Winner - Valarie LaSala, RN, received a DAISY Award for her compassionate care of former 3N unit secretary Trish Lindenmeier. Based on patient nominations, the DAISY Award recognizes nurses who make an enormous difference by the superhuman work they do.

Clinical Nurse of the Year – Elise Carbonette, RN from the OR

Also honored were Halina Wiszowaty, NA, from 2E, Nursing Assistant of the Year; Joanne O'Shea from CCU, Unit Secretary of the Year; and Danielle Falese, RN, from 2E, RN "Rookie" of the Year.

Harmonicas for Health Helps COPD Patients Breathe Easier

Patients with Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disorder (COPD) and other breathing problems are making music at Mather Hospital to improve the quality of their lives. They are participating in the national COPD Foundation's "Harmonicas for Health" program, which uses harmonicas to improve breathing.

"Playing the harmonica maintains lung function, which helps to reduce COPD symptoms; facilitates deep breathing and helps us use more of our lung capacity; and improves our ability to keep our lungs clear," said Ted Nilsson, MS, RT, RRT, Mather's Director of Respiratory Care Services, who explained the program to about a dozen attendees at the April meeting of the Congestive Heart Failure (CHF) Support Group.

CHF Coordinator Phyllis Macchio, ANP, GNP, said her group was a natural place to test out the program since CHF patients often have pulmonary issues as well. She said the harmonica worked in much the same way as the incentive spirometer, a device used to strengthen the muscles involved in breathing.

Harmonicas for Health also can boost self-confidence, relieve stress and help people who may be tethered to oxygen tanks socialize with others and have fun, according to the COPD Foundation, which supplied the harmonicas and instruction sheets. The program was developed with support from ACM Lifting Lives, the charitable arm of the Academy of Country Music.

Sheila Murphy of Selden, who uses an oxygen tank, said she enjoyed the class. Joseph Orlando of Selden, said he thought it was a great idea for people with COPD.

"This is an experiment, a pilot to see how the patients like the program," Nilsson said. "We are considering incorporating the harmonica program into our rehabilitation program." Luke Nilsson, a musician and Ted's son, explained the basics of playing the harmonica.

While there have been no medical studies proving that playing the harmonica improves lung function, "The anecdotal outcomes associated with Harmonicas for Health are very positive" from classes held around the country, said Jane Martin, the Foundation's Assistant Director of Education.

Mather to Receive Quality Award for First eMOLST System on Long Island

including emergency medical service corps, can have access to MOLST forms at all sites of care including hospitals, nursing homes and in the community.

Mather's eMOLST team is an interdisciplinary group encompassing Palliative Medicine, Social Work, Nursing, Hospital Medicine, and Information Services. In April 2016, the team began work on implementing eMOLST, which included creating links to the eMOLST registry in the electronic medical record, assessing and creating staff work flows, educating providers and community partners about MOLST/eMOLST, and establishing ongoing process improvement work.

"This quality initiative will help better serve our patients by making their wishes known and consistent with the treatments they receive near the end of their lives," said Director of Social Work Rich Poveromo, LMSW, who headed the eMOLST team.

Mather's Antimicrobial Stewardship Program a Success

In response to concerns over increasing antimicrobial resistance and inappropriate use of antibiotics nationwide, Mather in 2015 launched an Antimicrobial Stewardship Program. The hospital hired an antimicrobial stewardship specialty pharmacist who has helped to build a strong team to address this issue composed of Administration, Pharmacy, Infectious Disease physicians, IT, Laboratory, and Infection Prevention members, according to Olga Larios, Mather's Director of Pharmacy.

"Our antimicrobial pharmacist and Infectious Disease physician round three times per week. Every hospitalized patient for whom an antibiotic is prescribed is evaluated for appropriate antibiotic choice, correct match for 'drug and bug,' prudent dose, appropriate duration of therapy, and other critical entities," Larios said. "If necessary, they speak with the prescriber to discuss revisions in patient care."

Larios said the program's goal was to change the "antibiotic ordering culture" and to disseminate the program's mission throughout the hospital. "We have made a marked improvement in this area at Mather Hospital," she said. "We have established and reviewed the switch from the intravenous route to oral when feasible, restricted certain medications, deleted antiquated and unused antibiotics in favor of more effective choices, decreased our incidence of c. difficile, established the concurrent administration of probiotics with the most broad spectrum system antibiotics, and created required fields on our electronic medication administration which house the actual indication choice for the selected antibiotics. We have also limited the duration of many antibiotics to much shorter, yet effective, time periods."

In addition, the hospital has seen a significant cost savings for antibiotics over the program's first 15 months, Larios said.

Mather has recently opened a new and expanded Sleep Disorder Center on the first floor of the Medical Arts Building. The 6,000-square-foot facility includes eight diagnostic testing rooms featuring queen-sized beds and a state-of-the-art central monitoring room for therapists to conduct studies.

As many of you know, I attempt to visit a patient every day. I ask where they live, why they chose Mather, if they came into the hospital by ambulance or with a loved one, if they came in through the Emergency Department or electively, and how they were treated by the physicians, nurses, nursing assistants, respiratory therapists, physical therapists, imaging staff, housekeeping staff they have come in contact with. I ask if all their questions were answered to their satisfaction, and if they understood all the explanations the staff had given. I then ask what suggestions they have to improve the services we at Mather provide, and then I leave them my card to call, email, or write to me with any additional thoughts they may have after they leave the hospital. I follow up on all the suggestions. Many of these patients are surprised to be visited by the President of the Hospital. The overwhelming majority of the patients I visit have nothing but praise for the staff and the Mather culture.

As a service organization, our reputation is earned every day by how each one of us interacts with our patients and their loved ones and visitors. Please keep up the exceptional work you do daily.

Thank you.

Respiratory Therapy: Christian Nilsson, son of Ted Nilsson, received an Emmy Award in the Historical/Cultural Program Feature/Segment category for his film "Fight to Be the Oldest Bar in NYC" from The National Academy of Television at the 60th Annual New York Emmy® Awards on May 6.

Promotions:

3 East/Telemetry: Jillian Jablonski, RN, was named Assistant Nurse Manager on nights.

Information Services: Congratulations to Vinnie McGee, who has been promoted to Senior Systems Administrator/Information Security Manager.

Partial Hospitalization: Jennifer Kennedy, one of our Patient Access team members at Mather Partial Hospitalization Program, is moving on and joining the team at Insurance Verification. This transfer will enable Jenn to enjoy more "family-friendly" hours and not a moment too soon as Jenn, husband Patrick, and two-year-old son Cole celebrated the arrival of Ellie, born in April. We wish Jenn the very best, she will be sorely missed.

Rehabilitation Services: Kerri Hamilton, PT, was promoted to Assistant Director Inpatient Physical Therapy.

TCU: Welcome to Carolyn Germaine, RN, as the Director of Nursing for TCU. Good luck to Kim Giordano, RN, as the new MDS (Minimum Data Set) Coordinator.

Retirements:

Radiology: We said goodbye to Liz Devine, RN, and will miss her terribly. Rehabilitation Services: Vicki Bendjy, PTA, retired to North Carolina in January.

TCU: Best wishes to Elaine Fox, RN. Enjoy the warm weather and free time.
